To-Day's Schedule

"Frowns" Pittinger of Boston, U. S. A. got his bumpings yésterday at League Park at the hands of the Cardinals, who put another nail in the coffin in which lies the Boston hope of a first-division place.

What the locals did to Mr. Pittinger was sufficient, while on the other hand the diminutive Sudhoff won his fifth straight game by good, steady work throughout the contest. Had he not been a trifle unsteady In the opening round, Boston would very likely have been cut off with but a single run. "Wee Willie" allowed the Beanesters two runs in the initial inning in order to give them inflation of the chest, while in give them infiation of the chest, while in the other eight he busied himself with puncturing their prospects, blighting their hopes and deadening their ambitions. The husky Boston twirler retaliated by fanning the St. Louis twirler thrice, but he falled to hold down the other batters.

Wallace's Excellent Record.

Bobby Wallace was the particular bright star in the Cardinals' batting matinee. Bobby could have done no better, even if there had been a dozen American League magnates sitting in the grandstand each with a huge roll of "long green" ready to offer him for a next year's contract. Out of five times up he plucked five lusclous, juicy, raps for a total of eight bases. Four of them he placed far out to right—almost in the same place—and the other was a "Texas leaguer," which was just out of Cooley's reach. It isn't very often that Wallace is guilty of a 1,000 performance, but if he had Mr. Pittinger to face every day he might' be able to grace the top of the batting list of the League with his name. His smashes were all clean ones and scored four of the runs registered by the Donovanites.

Heidrick had a lovely time in straightening out the Boston man's benders. He gained a good lap on his rival, Jesse Burkett, and both his hits were good long ones. In the second round his scorching liner to left went through Rickert and brought up against the left-field bleachers. Before Rickert and two has rap which Carney pigtailed while Heldrick was encircling two sacks. "Oom Paul" Kruger had a poor day, with the exception of the first inning, when he marked the leather with a three-base label. Donovan, Richardson and Sudhoff falled to break into the hit column, but in Richardson's case this showing can be excused, as he got to the initial sack twee on free transportation.

Sudhoff opened the game in an encouraging way for Boston. He gave Rickert and Tenney free walks, and Demont laid the

be excused, as he got to the initial sack twice on free transportation.

Sudhoff opened the game in an encouraging way for Boston. He gave Rickert and Tenney free walks, and Demont laid the foundation of the first scores on a sacrifice. Cooley perished on a grounder to Padden, but Carney negotiated a safe hit to right which netted him three bases, scoring Rickert and Tenney. After that the midget twirler settled down to business in earnest and gave no more passes to first during the game. Lowe rapped smartly to Kruger, retiring the Selecites.

Burkett registered his only hit on his first time at bat. The effort was a beautiful bunt, which rolled about twenty feet down the third-base line. Pittinger and Lowe made a dash for it, but both yelled "hands off," thinking the bail would roll outside the line for a foul. Bob Emsile ran down, and the three watched the ball like hawks. The revolutions finally ceased after Burkett was safe at first, but the ball stopped dead just inside the line, and thus Jesse got his hit. Heidrick put up a weak fizzle of a fly which Lowe reached for and pulled down. Padden worked Pittinger for a base on balls, and Wallace began to build his record with a double which scored Burkett and Padden. Donovan's grounder was handled by Long and Tenney. Kruger soaked the sphere out to right for three bases, scoring Wallace. Heydon took advantage of four wide ones. While Sudhoff was striking out Heydon and Kruger started a double steal. Moran three wide to second and Kruger scored ahead of a return throw, Heydon gaining the middle cushion.

Heidrick four-time punch livened things.

JOYCE MAY HAVE A CHANCE.

Manager Denovan to Place Him on the Firing Line To-Day.

Manager Donovan announced last night that, in all probability, Pitcher Joyce would be worked in to-day's game against Boston. The toes lies between Joyce and Harper, but the former will be given the preference if he feels ripe for the game. Heydon or Schriver will catch. Heydon's work yesterday was the best exhibition he has put up since he donned a Cardinal uniform. Out of three times up he secured two hits and handled Sudhoff's throws well. Vic Willis will likely go to the slab for the Selecites.

"Just had a good day, that's all," said Bobby Wallace, in speaking of his tree-swinging performance yesterday. "You know some people think I am a rotten nut-ter, and I thought I would show them a thing or two. I don't-think I will lead any leagues very soon, however."

leagues very soon, however."

"There goes a poem in baseball," said a fan as Wallace skated off down the stretch on the first lap of his three-time hit. "I guess you're about right," replied his neighbor in the grand stand, "but I can point out an abundance of blank verse from the talent on the field." Wallace is looked up to by local fandom much the same as the denizers of the Smoky City look up to Hans Wagner. His teammates and Captain Donovan declare he is the best ever, and his good work is certainly more consistent than Wagner's. Wallace doesn't need any big batting averages to get him a good berth in either of the big leagues. Neither does he need any recommendation. His work speaks for itself.

As the leading clubs in the American work speaks for itself.

As the leading clubs in the American League near the end of the home stretch the fight grows extremely interesting. Chicago, with pennant almost in its grasp, seems to have struck a snag. Boston is no longer secure in second position. Detroit jumped up to close quarters by annexing both games of a double header yesterday at Boston. Cleveland will hardly overtake Washington, although the Forest Cityites displayed superior form in both of yesterday's games at Washington. Milwaukee has sunk into oblivion, and Baltimore, by taking both games from the Brewers yesterday, succeeded in attaining a standing of .500.

"He's a regular Yankee," said one of the grandstand rooters Sunday when Yerkes came in from the field with that long-legged stride. The name was taken up and repeated, and the next time that Yerkes goes on the firing line he probably will be halted by some strenuous voiced fan thusly; "Go on, now, Yank, old boy. Fan 'em'out."

New York, Sept. 23.—Thousands of dollars pooled at the Stock Exchange will be wagered on the Columbia-Shamrock cup races before Thursday, the day of the first race. Already a number of bets have been recorded, but they are of little importance compared to those expected to be made tomorrow. Now a scarcity of Shamrock money is complained of.
Fred H Brooks of the firm of Selligsberg & Co. at No. 70 Broadway has announced his intention of backing the Columbia with $10,000 against $5,000 Shamrock money. If this bet can be arranged, Mr. Brooks says he'll find backing of $10,000 more for the American yacht.

Broker Edward Wasserman wants to lay against Shamrock and has already made two small bets of $500 to $400 against the challenger. Mr. Wasserman says he will cover all the Shamrock money he sees.

Another small bet on record at the Stock Exchange is one of $100 to $50 against Shamrock, made by H. G. Boody, son of Brooklyn's ex-Mayor. Stephen Brown of Vernon H. Brown & Co. took the Columbia end.

At the race track the yacht races are regarded as an even-money chance, Bookmakers Soi Lichtenstein, Eddie Burke and George Considine say they will accommodate all Shamrock bettors.

New York, Sept. 22.—His Majesty's beautiful $3,000,000 yacht, the Victoria and Albert, which tried to turn bottom upward when she was launched, which had to be almost wholly rebuilt and on which an army of workmen who were needed sorely for the construction of new British war vessels has been kept busy for two years, was officially declared to be seaworthy when she returned from her trial trip to Gibraltar a few days ago, says the London correspondent of the Press.

Unofficially, however, it was understood generally that this remarkable vessel had rolled to such an extent that no monarch would consent to go to sea in her. Even the crew had been seasick.

LIVE-STOCK CONVENTION. Reduced Rates by All Lines for Meet-ing at Chiengo.

ing at Chicago.

Denver, Colo., Sept. 23.—Chairman MacLeod of the Western Passenger Association to-day notified the secretary of the National Live Stock Association that a rate of one fare plus $2$ had been made from all points within his territory to the fifth annual convention of the association, which convenes in Chicago December 3. The Central Passenger Association, covering the territory east of Chicago, has made a similar rate,
Chairman Pratt of the Southwestern Passenger Bureau, General Passenger Agents
E. L. Lomax of the Union Pacific and D.
H. Burley of the Oregon Short Line, have promised to make the same rates as granted by the Western Association. Chairman Charlton of the Transcontinental Association announces a rate of 3 cents per mile from California, Washington and Nevada points.

There will be several special trains of delegates from the Western and Central States to Chicago, solely to attend this convention.

HOMESEEKERS EXCURSIONS.

KANSAS AND SOUTHERN.

Surveyors Start to Run a Line From Emporia to Omaha. Emporia to Omaha.

Emporia, Kas., Sept. 23.—Richard Nevins, locating engineer for the Kansas and Southern Raliroad, started here to-day with a gang of surveyors to run a direct route to Omaha. Neb., for that road. This road was projected here some time ago, and $70,000 in bonds were voted by Emporia City and Lyon County. The read, it is said, is being built by Omaha capitalists, with the view of getting cattle from this territory for the Omaha market.

Husgarian Manipulators.

There has been for some time a movement among Hungarian state railroad men to demand better pay and treatment. But this seems not to have included the women employes, who, under the name of "manipulators," are considerable in numbers and the worst paid of all. So the poor women have started a movement of their own. They say: "No one has so much cause for anxiety for his future as we poor manipulators; for it is no empty phrase but the bloody truth that of all who earn their living we are the most pitiable. We work, so long as work we can, for a wage so miserable that it barely saves us from dying of hunger, and then when we can work no longer, what awaits us? The beggar's staff, the poorhouse." They ask not only better wages, but retiring pensions, which most Continental railroad employes are entitled to.

The railway club season has opened again, and the usual fall conventions of railway associations have also begun. Most of the clubs have held their September meetings, and the attendance and interest were good. It is interesting to notice toe broadening and the attendance and interest were good. It is interesting to notice toe broadening field of discussion, and the fact that same of the newer clubs show not only vigor, but that they can do as good work as the older, says the Railway Review. In some of the latter, many of the old stand-sys have dropped out, owing to removals and other causes; but there seems to be an increasingly large number of new men coming forward who are earnest and thoughtful and ready to contribute to the common good. The work of the clubs for 1901-2 promises to be very valuable.

W. D. Wood, traveling passenger agent of the Wabash, is making arrangements for a special sleeper which will leave St. Louis for the annual meeting of the American Association of Traveling Passenger Agents, which will be held at Los Angeles, Cal., November 12 and 13. The sleeper will be attached at Kansas City to the special train from Chicago over the Santa Fe Boute. The itinerary, which is very elaborate, has been announced already in these columns. Several members from St. Louis who will make the trip will be accompanied by their wives, mothers or daughters.

Cash for filesper Reservations.

The Pennsylvania has adopted a new rule regarding the reservation of sleeping-car space on the lines east of Pittsburg. Hereafter persons wishing to reserve sleeping-car space must pay for the same when it is reserved.

Heretofore any one has been permitted to roserve space in a sleeper two or three days, or even a week, ahead without purchising a ticket. Some of the persons reserving space in this way have not made the contemplated trip, and the reservation of the space has prevented others from securing berths that they would have occupied.

Misses' Shirt-Waist Costume, Consisting of Misses' Fancy Shirt Waist, No. 870, and Misses' Circular Skirt, With Circular Flounces, No. 8233-The shirt-waist suit is a distinctive novelty of the season, and appears in many attractive forms. Those made of chambray, linen, pique, duck and gingham are packed in pretty boxes, ready to sell.

The costume illustrated is made of marine blue madras, with white linen and Hamburg embroidery for trimming. The shirt waist is mounted on a glove-fitted lining, which closes in the center front. The back is fitted smoothly across the shoulders, with slight fullness drawn down in tiny plaits at the belt. The plastron of tucking is per-manently attached to the right lining front and fastens invisibly on the left.

Waist, 12, 14 and 16 years.

The full fronts are decorated with broad revers, which are formed by the turn-down collar. There is comfortable fullness at the shoulder of the one-piece bishop sleeve, which fits the upper arm closely. The lower edge is gathered and arranged on a narrow linen wristband.

Small darts are employed to fit the stylish skirt, around the waist and hips. The closing is made at the center back, the underlying plait at each side being flatly pressed to present a plain effect.

Two circular flounces applied at the lower edge give the fashionable flare. The flounces

Two circular flounces applied at the tower edge give the fashionable flare. The flounces are made with deep hems and inished by a band of insertion to match that used on the shirt waist.

The mode is appropriate for serge, cheviet Venetian or covert, which may be trimmed with heavy white lace, velvet or silk.

To make the waist for a miss 14 years will require two yards of 35-inch material.

To make the skirt for a miss 14 years will require four and three-fourths yards of 44-inch material. The pattern, No. 232. is cut in sizes for misses 12, 14 and 16 years. souri Pacific and Vice President and General Manager Russell Harding left last night for Chicago.

—J. M. Beall, assistant general passenger sgent of the Mobile and Ohio, has opened his office at headquarters of the company, in the Fullerton building.

—S. A. Hughes, general agent of the passenger department of the Frisco, left last night for his initial trip along the lines in pursuance of the new duties assigned to him.
